

Guaranteeing Results

What is within my control to guarantee my client gets the result they seek?

What are the simplest, most necessary steps I can teach them to get this result?

What are the thoughts they need to think and believe to take these steps and create this result?

What is within their control?

Where might they fall off?

How can I counteract this and keep them on track?

What do I trust? What do I know? About me? About them?
